

CHRISTINE E. LYNN
COLLEGE OF NURSING
Florida Atlantic University

Associate Professor/Professor

Florida Atlantic University seeks an experienced researcher for a joint 12-month faculty position between the Christine E. Lynn College of Nursing and the Institute for Healthy Aging and Lifespan Studies (I-HeAL). I-HeAL, is dedicated to the advancement of health through pioneering research and practical application, and has been designated by the University to be a priority research area. This includes research designed to create new knowledge that benefits individuals and populations as they age, through for example, health and wellness, geriatrics and aging in place, and health policy and equity, and economics. This joint appointment will facilitate interdisciplinary collaboration to develop innovative research with adults, including older adults.

Applicants will be passionate about nursing, and thrive in a creative, collaborative and caring work environment. The candidate will have a doctorate in nursing or related field; with a focus on health promotion and/or health disparities in older adults; be eligible for RN licensure in the state of Florida; and have an established program of research with current R01-like funding. Interested applicants can apply online for position #991294 at <https://jobs.fau.edu>.
