Invitation Letter

Dear friends, ladies and gentlemen,

It is our great honor to invite you to attend the 2012 Kunming International Nursing Conference between 18-20 October 2012, hosted by Kunming Medical University (KMU).

The conference is organized by the School of Nursing of KMU; and will be co-hosted by following institutions:

- Nursing Association of Yunnan Province, China
- School of Nursing & Midwifery of Deakin University, Australia
- Faculty of Nursing of Prince of Songkla University, Thailand
- Faculty of Nursing of Thammasat University, Thailand
- Faculty of Nursing of Chiang Mai University, Thailand
- Christine E. Lynn College of Nursing of Florida Atlantic University, America
- School of Nursing, Faculty of Medicine of University of Miyazaki, Japan
- First Affiliated Hospital of Kunming Medical University
- Second Affiliated Hospital of Kunming Medical University
- Third Affiliated Hospital of Kunming Medical University
- Stomatological Hospital of Kunming Medical University

The goal of the conference is to build a broad and in-depth academic exchange platform for domestic and international nursing colleagues and postgraduates, to share the information of nursing development, knowledge and experience in nursing education practice and research; to improve nursing education and nursing quality; to draw attention on quality of life and health, personal rights and health needs for patients from multicultural societies, as well as personality and dignity concerns and care in the modern nursing education and practice.

There will be nursing experts, scholars and nurse specialties from world around to participate in this conference. Your attendance would definitely enrich this great event.

Kunming is known as the "spring city". It is a charming city with mild climate, rich national customs and beautiful sceneries. We sincerely look forward to spending a pleasant time with you in this beautiful and friendly city!

Yours sincerely,

[Signature]

Professor JIANG Runsheng
President of Kunming Medical University
Honorary President of the Conference
February 2012